

The solar cooker HS 5521 and HS 5921 tested in Indonesia

Suharta Herlivani ⁽¹⁾; Sayigh A. M. ⁽²⁾; Abdullah K. ⁽³⁾;

⁽¹⁾ Technical Implementation Unit Energy Technology Laboratory (UPT LSDE) - BPP
Teknologi, PUSPIPTEK, Serpong, Tangerang 15314, Indonesia

⁽²⁾ University of Hertfordshire, Hatfield Herts, AL10 9AB, Royaume-Uni

⁽³⁾ Laboratory of Energy and Agricultural Electrification, Institut Pertanian Bogor, Bogor, Indonesia

Abstract

This paper describes two designs of Indonesian solar box cooker with a mirror reflector. Both have the aperture area of 2343 cm². Their difference in design and performance are described in detail. The comparison of their performances to the previous design HS 7033 (or HS4) are also given. Further actions for solar cooker globalization is described briefly.