ABSTRACT

KHAIRUNNAS, 2011, Strategy of Employment Development Opportunities in Natuna Regency. Under the supervision of LALA M KOLOPAKING as the chairman, LUKMAN M BAGA as the member of Supervisor committee.

The purpose of this study is to analyze the result of supplies and local manpower qualification. In addition, strategy and employment developing program through SWOT and Road Map Strategy is formulated. Local inhabitants manpower age prediction on the period of inhabitants productive domination. PDRB based on constant price of 2000 is assumed higher, especially in agriculture sector will be amounting to 618 milliards rupiahs in 2015 with total manpower expectation 38.340 manpower. Employment which are available in Natuna due to Riau and Kepri development, consisting 8.887 manpower, industrial collaborated component is 2.407 manpower, competitive potential component is 2.172 so that the total of available Employment will be 13.467 laborers from 2002 till 2009. Location Quotient (LQ) analysis indicates the result that in 2009, Natuna possesses four based sectors, they are agriculture, construction, service and collaborated sectors (minning and quarrying, electricity, gas and water). Among others the formulation strategy conducted through SWOT and Road Map are the local economy development based on marine and the fisheries and the empowerment of the productive age populations is to support the development of agroindustry through three main clusters for the coming five years in achieving sustainable employment development program to develop Natuna Regency.

Keywords: Project, Based Economic, Employment Opportunities, Natuna Regency