This study is aimed to identify some factors that encourage Batak migrant doing migration into Bogor City, analyze social interaction process that weaved by Batak migrant in Bogor City, analyze connection between social interaction process with migrant economic and social success. This study is conducted with survey method. The main motivation of Batak migrant doing migration is an economic motive. Batak migrant migrate to Bogor because they have a better economic chances compared to their native place, an opportunities to develop themselves wide open as well, and comfortable environment. These migrants participated in various organization as a form of adaptation in Bogor. Migrant adaptation process affect migrant social and economic success. In general, they optimist will have a better life in Bogor.

Keyword: Adaptation, Batak, Migration