Conflict over natural resource management in Kuningan district rose due to access restriction since establishment of Ciremai Mountain National Park according to Ministry of Forestry Decree No. SK.424/Menhut-II/2004. Local communities from 26 villages surround National Park could not get access to their agroforest they have developed before establishment of the Park. The objectives of the research are to develop a process of conflict resolution as well as to develop a collaborative Ciremai Mountain National Park management. An action research had been done to achieve those objectives during September 2006 to September 2010. The result showed conflict was resolved. There were attitude changes among stakeholders involved in conflict from confrontation into collaborative attitude. This attitude changed was a strong foundation to establish collaboration among stakeholders. This research also showed collaborative national park management has been developed and implemented up to now.
